

The Kingdom of heaven is like a net...

When we think of fishing season, a picture comes to mind of individual fisherman side by side at the water's edge throwing in their lines and waiting for a nibble. It is typically a solitary sport that fills a small cooler (if you are lucky) by the end of the day. Now if you want a lot of fish, you put down the pole and pick up a net.

Women's Choice Network is putting down the pole and mending the nets. We know that many individuals woven together into a network can yield a great catch. In a strong net, each joint is equally valuable. No one part of the net is better than the rest, the success is in the breadth and strength of the whole.

When Jesus told him to lower the nets, Simon grumbled, "But we've toiled all night and caught nothing!" We all know how he felt. But at God's Word we are taking our nets out into deep water. And like Simon Peter, we will praise God for the catch of a lifetime. Our Urban Initiative and Campus Project require a net of strength and perseverance. Little lives depend on each joint pulling to save them from death. We look forward to thousands being "caught up" into God's net of love and care this year.

Thank you for being part of the Women's Choice Network. We rely on your generous giving, prayer, and support. Please look us up at www.mypregnancycenter.org to find out more.

In His Net,

Amy Scheuring